PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 29, 1833.

FOREIGN NEWS.—Again we present to our readers a mass of foreign news—the intelligence from Portugal, though highly interesting, and very favorable to the cause of Donna Maria, is not yet decisive. The Southern portion of that kingdom seems to have declared, pretty generally, in favor of the constitutional cause.

The fleet of admiral Napier was, it seems, spoken, off the mouth of the Tagus, and the army of the young queen, under the command of Villa Flor, had arrived at Setuval. This town is not situated on the south side of the Tagus, opposite to Lisbon, as is said in some papers, but at the mouth of the Sandao, twenty two miles distant from the capital of Portugal.

In some of the New York papers, the situation of the Tagus, between the army of Villa Flor and Lisbon, is thought to be disadvantageous to the Constitutional party.—This seems to us to be entirely a mistake. It is true, that when Wellington defended Lisbon against Massena, in his lines at Torres Vedras, the Tagus effectually guarded Lisbon from the efforts of the French from the south. But circumstances are now entirely different—the possessors of Lisbon, at that time, had entire and undisputed command of the River. Now, the party advancing against Lisbon will have the control of it. This is one of the great advantages resulting from the capture of Don Miguel's fleet; it converts the Tagus into a barrier of defence against the designs of Don Miguel, and also affords Villa Flor's army facilities in operating against Lisbon. Don Miguel cannot remain to the north of Lisbon, in the full confidence that that city is protected from the operations of Don Pedro, in his rear, by the broad stream of the Tagus, as did Wellington, in 1810.—At that time, Massena might have had undisputed possession of the south shore of the Tagus, and yet Lisbon, resting under the protection of the British naval force, could laugh his efforts to scorn. The Tagus then protected Lisbon as effectually against all the efforts of Massena, as the English channel previously did England against the invasion of his master.

The intelligence from Oporto is important—whether it is true that Bourmont, in his assault, met with a decisive defeat, or whether he was merely repelled.—Upon his arrival at Lisbon, he found the cause of Don Miguel rapidly declining, under the recent adverse occurrences—the landing in Algarve—the enthusiasm manifested there, in favor of the young queen,—and the total destruction of the Miguelite fleet—all these events were calculated to discourage the adherents of Don Miguel, and to incite the partisans of the queen.—Under such circumstances, he would perceive the necessity of making some great effort, and gaining some brilliant advantage, to change the aspect of affairs. The storming, successfully, the city of Oporto would be such an advantage; and, as such, it would naturally induce every effort to render it successful. The mere failure of the attempt, without decisive disasters, would tend still more to discourage and dishearten the adherents of Miguel. It is not probable that he would subsequently be enabled to make a more formidable assault; and, even if he should, every day, as Don Pedro approaches nearer to Lisbon, the possession of Oporto becomes less important. So obvious is this, to our mind, that we expect that the next arrival will bring intelligence that Bourmont has abandoned the siege of that place, either to fly into Spain, or at least to march to meet Villa Flor's army.

THE INTERCOURSE WITH OHIO.—We have noticed that, for some time past, we scarcely ever fall into the company of any of our merchants, who have had many customers in the north eastern part of Ohio, without hearing complaints about the loss of business in that quarter. It seems that many persons, who used to trade in Pittsburgh, or to go to Philadelphia, by the way of Pittsburgh, are now induced to transact their business either at New York or Montreal. These complaints cannot be without good grounds, and they are becoming so frequent as to demand some attention. Something must be done to arrest this disposition to desert our market.—We would, therefore, suggest that a convention of delegates, from all the counties in Pennsylvania and Ohio, interested in a connection between Pittsburgh and the Ohio Canal, either by a Railroad to Massillon, or a Canal to Akron, or a Canal to Erie, should assemble, in November next, at some central point, say Warren, in Ohio, not for the purpose of discussing the merits of the several routs, but to collect together a mass of information as to the amount and value of the trade on the Ohio Canal, and on Lake Erie, and as to its probable amount a few years hence, and for the purpose of presenting the same to the public, in a condensed and intelligible shape.

We believe that, if delegates were early appointed for this purpose, and, when appointed, they would diligently set themselves to work, to collect this information, that the amount of this trade, as exhibited by creditable statements, would be so enormous as to draw, irresistibly to it, a large share of public attention.

We throw out this suggestion, with the hope that it may lead to some measure upon this subject, and invite our fellow citizens to reflect upon it, and to add to, alter, or amend it, at pleasure.

For the Gazette.

MR. CRAIG—The custom of holding Fairs, periodically, is both ancient and foreign in its origin. In Europe, and along the Asiatic shores of the Mediterranean, these marts for the sale of the rarest and most costly commodities, were very conspicuous, attracted the attention of their own and the neighboring people, and were either regulated by statutary enactment, or established by Letters Patent from the king. Indeed, so highly favored were they, that in days set apart for that purpose, foreigners, as well as natives, entered, remained, and departed from the dominion, under the royal protection: they were exempt from the payment of the ordinary tolls, duties, and other restrictions, and were even privileged from arrest for debts contracted elsewhere than at the Fair. We may remark, too, 'en passant,' that merchants were even prohibited, under a severe penalty, (a very salutary restraint) from engaging in commerce, or vending any articles during the time to which we have referred.

It is gratifying to observe that this useful and almost immemorial usage has been revived and remodeled in our own land; not under the powerful protection of Government, nor for the sordid purposes of traffic and gain; but under the kind auspices of the 'gentler sex,' who sway the understandings and melt the most obdurate hearts, by presenting to our contemplation, objects worthy of the most exalted sentiment, and the purest attachment.

For several weeks or months past, we have understood, the ingenuity, the skill, and taste of our fair ones, have been engaged in accumulating their precious treasures—or rather temptations to allure the treasures of others—all of which are to be appropriated to the building up of an asylum for the indigent, the ignorant, and the helpless little ones, over whom an enlightened and christian community are taught, by the dictates of Nature and Education, to exercise a peculiar regard. On Wednesday next, we are promised an exhibition of their fabrics, at the new store room of Messrs. Darlington and Way, and will doubtless be very much regaled by the appearance of many things devised by the ingenuity, executed by the skill, and embellished by the exquisite taste of those whom we admire, and whose exertions in a noble cause, we highly appreciate.

The philanthropic project of establishing an Orphan Asylum, in our vicinity, has been long and anxiously cherished, and various expedients have been adopted to raise the necessary funds. We lament that the efforts of the ladies have been hitherto so unavailing, and sincerely hope another and perhaps a final appeal to the generosity, the sympathy, and the charity of a prosperous community, may be crowned by ample success.

LATEST NEWS!!

From the New York American, August 24.

The Canada, from London and Portsmouth, which last place she left on the 1st, brings London papers to the 31st July. We are greatly indebted to the Daily Advertiser for extracts. St. Ubes had fallen into the hands of the Pedroites, whose troops were advancing steadily towards Lisbon. Between them, however, and that capital, is the broad Tagus; which opposite and for some miles above Lisbon, is between two and three miles wide, and below the city, still wider. Napier, however, with his fleet, is off the harbor, and it would well suit his dashing character, whenever the army reaches the banks of the Tagus, to run up past the forts, as he might, with a leading wind, do, without imminent danger—and anchor above the city, and thus facilitate the passing of the troops. Reports of the capture of Lisbon prevailed in London on the 31st, (says the London paper,) it being asserted that his Majesty's ship the Stag, had arrived off Plymouth with that intelligence. These, though strongly maintained, we believe, are not entitled to any credence. We have also reason to believe that our Government has not received any despatches.

Marshal Bourmont had made an attack upon Oporto, and had been repulsed.

The London Evening 2d Edition, at 4 o'clock, 31st, says:—Marshal Bourmont attacked Oporto, and was beaten off; the result was decidedly favorable to the Constitutional cause. On this news the Portuguese Bonds rose rapidly.

MADRID, July 19.—The accounts received here, in relation to the state of affairs in Portugal, and the little doubt now entertained of the success of Don Pedro, have produced a considerable sensation in the public of this city, and, it is understood, not a little alarm in the Cabinet. Indeed, the tone of the Government, in relating the recent occurrence in the Algarves, is evidently changed; the defeat of the Miguelite squadron is officially and unequivocally announced, and the adherents of the Ex Emperor are no longer styled rebels. There appears to exist a disposition to adopt a new line of policy towards Portugal; and one more advantage gained by the liberal party in that country will effect in this one what all the diplomatic skill of the late Ambassador Extraordinary was unable to achieve. That there is such a disposition, and that H. C. M. is willing to avail himself of some pretext to back out, and abandon Don Miguel, may be inferred from the fact, that some bickerings have already taken place between the Government and that of Lisbon. It seems that a seditious correspondence was lately detected.

TURKEY.

The Augsburgh Gazette contains the following, dated frontiers of Servia, June 10th:—"The 6th of June was a happy day for Servia. On that day Prince Milosh announced to his people the resolution of the Porte to cede to the Servians the six districts, which were taken from them in 1813.—This news was communicated officially to all the Servian authorities, and excited the greatest demonstrations of joy among the inhabitants. Now there remains nothing for the Servians to wish for, but that the Turks who are still residing in Servia may evacuate the country. Prince Milosh is negotiating to effect this, and it is expected that his efforts will soon have the desired result."

PORTUGAL.

Lisbon papers of the 22d were received in London on the 31st ult., by express. They contain the Miguelite account of the operations of the Constitutional forces in the south of Portugal, which, as may be supposed, presents a very different character from that received through the medium of Don Pedro's agent.

It is stated in these accounts that after their first successes, which are attributed to the troops not being prepared for an attack, "the rebels" have been discomfited in all directions, and have been obliged to fly from the places they had taken.—Numbers of them are said to have deserted, and the country people are described as rising up against them, and cutting off their retreat. No mention is made in these accounts of the capture of Don Miguel's squadron.

These papers state that the military force assembled in the city of Beja, and which forms the fifth division, was on the point of taking offensive measures speedily to deliver the brave population of Algarve from "the terrible invasion of the rebels." They also state, that—"On account of the calamitous epidemic which has attacked the city of Lisbon and other parts of the kingdom, the Senate of Lisbon has proposed (and this proposal has been approved by his Majesty,) to make a solemn penitential procession to the miraculous image of the Virgin, called of the Rock, (alias of the Rabbit hole.")

The following is the latest intelligence contained in the London papers:—

LONDON, July 31.—City, Twelve o'clock.—Lisbon Gazettes, to the 22d instant, inclusive, were received this morning at the North and South American Coffee House. Much anxiety was immediately manifested to ascertain by what vessel they had come, and on examination of the post letters at Lloyd's, no arrival having been notified by their Agents, and no letters to private persons having been received, a degree of mystery was attached to them.

They contain the official announcement of the nomination of Marshal Bourmont to the command of the Miguelite army, but make no mention of the fleet of Napier, or of the action off Cape St. Vincent. The fact of no attack having been made on Lisbon up to the 22d, and the absence of any news from Oporto, produced a feeling of uneasiness, and a decline in the Portuguese Securities, the bonds having been at 74 1-2 5, and the Regency Scrip at 10 1-4 pm.

It is, however, now positively stated that the African steam boat has arrived with accounts from Oporto to the 20th; that, on the 25th, a general attack was made by Marshal Bourmont upon that city, the result of which was of a most decidedly favorable nature to the Constitutional cause, and that he was repulsed with considerable loss. Upon this being generally reported a sudden and considerable rise took place.

Half past One.—It is still most confidently asserted that the most favorable accounts have been received from Oporto, that the Miguelite army was most signally defeated, and that Marshal Bourmont had fled into the interior, supposed on the rout to Spain. It is also added that, on the 22d, the African steam boat spoke the whole of Napier's fleet, about six miles from the mouth of the Tagus, and learnt that he had landed a body of troops at St. Ubal, for the purpose of joining those of Villa Flor. The rise in the Portuguese Securities has continued.

The London Sun, of the 27th, says:

We understand that, at one of the Cabinet Councils, the Portuguese question was again taken into consideration, and that, shortly afterwards, when the representative of the Regency in this country again applied for the recognition of Donna Maria as Queen de facto of Portugal, he was informed that, although nothing positive on that subject had yet been decided upon, the late accounts had materially improved the grounds on which the application was first made, and that, at no distant day, he might reasonably expect such steps on the part of our government, as would not only hasten the settlement of the question, but also place the Constitutional Government in a position not to dread foreign attack or intestine commotion. As this occurred immediately after the capture of the Miguelite fleet, but before the news of the popular demonstrations made in the Algarves and the Alentejo had reached England, it is but reasonable to suppose that a few days will produce some decided step by our Government in favor of the Constitutionalists. It is said, however, that the possession of Lisbon, by the liberating army, or its spontaneous declaration in favor of Donna Maria, is insisted upon by some members of the Cabinet as the justification of an act of recognition by this country.—Sun.

By the Paris papers, of the 29th ult., it would appear that the French Government have already taken measures for the recognition of the authority of the young Queen of Portugal. Advices from Madrid, in these papers, also represent the Spanish Government as being disposed to declare for Donna Maria, but they were withheld by the intimidation of Russia.

Official information has been received by the agents of Don Pedro, that the chief part of the Island of Madeira has declared in favor of Donna Maria. That part of the executive, indisposed to the young Queen, has retired into the interior.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Irish Church Temporalities Bill was read a third time on the 30th, in the House of Lords, majority, 54; and there was every prospect that the slavery abolition bill would pass without material alteration. The following is the statement of proceedings in reference to the first measure.

IRISH CHURCH TEMPORALITIES BILL.

LONDON, July 30.—In the House of Lords, last night, Earl Grey moved that the report of the Church Temporalities (Ireland) Bill be received. The Earl of Winchelsea resisted the motion, and divided the house on it; the numbers were—ayes, 68; noes, 38; majority, 30. The report was then presented, and the several clauses were read.—The Duke of Wellington suggested an amendment that the commissioners be required to take oath that they were of the Protestant religion, which was acquiesced in. The setting apart of twenty livings for the Junior Fellows of Dublin University, &c., was again urged. Earl Grey replied that he was disposed to admit the principle of the suggestion, and thought that, if ten livings were so set apart, the arrangement might be of a beneficial tendency. The report was eventually agreed to, and the bill is to be read a third time this day.

Read a third time.

LONDON, July 31st.—Yesterday, in the House of Lords, Earl Grey moved the third reading of the Church Temporalities (Ireland) Bill. This led to considerable debate. Lord Wynford, the Duke of Wellington, &c., opposed the bill.

Lord Bexley opposed the bill, and deprecated the principle of vesting in commissioners the whole landed property of the Church of Ireland. He could not help thinking that if they adopted this bill they would be sanctioning an open violation of the act of union with Ireland. He considered that the reduction proposed by this bill to be made in the revenues of two of the Irish bishopries, on the ground that these revenues were at present too large, went very far to establish the principle of agrarian law, and, to such a principle he, for one, could never give his assent. For these reasons, he felt bound to vote against the third reading of the bill—(cries of "question, question.")

The House then divided upon the motion that this bill be read a third time, when there appeared—

Majority in favor of the third reading, —54

On our readmission to the gallery, we found Earl Grey moving a clause, by way of a rider to the bill.

At the suggestion of some noble Duke, (the Duke of Cumberland, we believe,) the clause was agreed to.

Defeat of Ministers.—London, July 26.—In the House of Lords, last night, the consideration of the Church Temporalities (Ireland) bill was resumed in committee. On the 117th clause, which gives the power to the commissioners to suspend livings, where there had been no service performed for three years, and to appropriate the revenue, Lord Wynford moved an amendment to the effect that such powers should be transferred to the Bishop of the diocese and his Ordinary, instead of remaining with the Commissioners. His Lordship maintained that the clause under discussion gave a power to the Commissioners which they ought not to possess. The power ought of right to belong to the Bishops, who were more conversant with Ecclesiastical affairs. The Earl of Ripon contended that nobody could be more competent to act than the Commissioners, who were, in point of fact the representatives of the Bishops. The Earl of Limerick protested against taking the power from the Episcopacy and giving it laymen. Lord Plunket could see no distinction between vesting such a power in the Bishops and giving them a discretion to do as they pleased. The Marquis of Salisbury and the Bishop of Exeter strongly supported the amendment.

After some further discussion, in which several Noble Lords took part, Lord Wynford withdrew his amendment, to make way for the Archbishop of Canterbury, who moved that the profits of the suspended benefices should be applied to the building of churches and glebes. The Marquis of Lansdowne resisted the motion, on the ground that the Commissioners would be the best judges of the necessity, the Lord Chancellor and Lord Grey having argued to the same effect before. The amendment, however, was carried against Ministers on a division by a majority of two, the numbers being—Ayes, 84; Noes, 82. Immediately after the division Earl Grey moved that the House should resume. Some objection was made to the motion by certain Noble Lords, who wished that the bill should be proceeded with, but ultimately the motion was carried, and the House adjourned, that Ministers might have time to consider what course they would pursue.

LONDON, July 29.—The defeat of Ministers in the House of Lords on Thursday night is said to have been purely accidental, Lords Alvanly, Belhaven, and one more, having come down too late for the division. These three votes would have given a majority of one to Ministers.

LONDON, July 27.—In the House of Lords, last night Earl Grey, in moving that the House again resolve into a committee on the Church Temporalities' (Ireland) Bill, stated that after the adverse decision on the former evening, he had desired time to consider the effects of that amendment.—He regretted the result. He did not think that the amendment by any means improved the bill; but he did not consider that he should be justified in not still pressing forward the measure.

He had made all possible concessions, his only object being to strengthen the Protestant Establishment in Ireland; but though he proceeded with the Bill, he should not feel himself precluded from moving an amendment on the report. These declarations called forth considerable cheering. The House was very fully attended.

POLAND.

LEMBERG, July 13.—According to commercial letters from Jassy, another dreadful fire had taken place there, in which half the city that escaped in the preceding fire, fell a prey to the flames. Notwithstanding the great exertions of the Russian garrison, the bad construction of the houses rendered it impossible to arrest the fury of the conflagration till the following day.

The Russian troops posted on the Danube are still assembled in the same positions, but are to be removed to their old quarters as soon as the news arrives that Count Orloff, with his corps, has left the Bosphorus.

Accounts from Alexandria, mention the increased activity of Mehemet Ali in the improvement of the extensive territories now subject to his government. Among other projects, we are told, he is erecting the port of Suda into a general mart for the trade of Syria. He is also employing several foreign engineers—among whom are two Englishmen, Messrs. Wallace and Galloway—to survey the interior both of Syria and Egypt, with a view to the improvement of the internal communication of the country, by roads and canals for commercial purposes.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, July 24.

The Orange Processions and Arrests.—Fourteen Orangemen of the Lurgan district have been arrested on the warrant of W. J. Hanncock and C. Brownlow, Esqrs., and lodged in the Armagh jail, for the present assizes, on information charging them with having walked in procession on the 12th of July. It is said that a rescue was meditated by a number of the brethren, who assembled at Potardtown, but the prisoners had been previously marched through that town as early as three o'clock in the morning, and the assemblage being too late, had no remedy but to disperse again.

On the evening preceding the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, the effigy of Sir W. Gosset was publicly burned by a large assembly of Orangemen, at Pettigo, county of Donegal.

The Lord Lieutenant has offered three rewards of £100 each for such information as may lead to the conviction of any of the parties concerned in the outrages on the three individuals who were seriously beaten and wounded near Coothill, the evening of the affray of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

On account of the calamitous epidemic which has attacked the city of Lisbon and other parts of the kingdom, the senate of Lisbon has proposed (and this proposal has been approved by his Majesty) to make a solemn penitential procession to the miraculous image of the Virgin called of the Rock.—Lisbon Gazette, July 22.

SIR—It is not generally known, that the distinguished Patriot, General Henry Knox was, before the American Revolution, a bookseller and binder.

He served his apprenticeship with Wharton and Bowers, who were booksellers in Boston, and commenced business, on his own account, in 1771. Having one of his shop tickets, and considering that it will be a curious relic, in time to come, I copy it in full.

One of the recent letters of O. P. Q., of the London Morning Chronicle, is introduced thus. "The Propagandism of the Counter Revolution, or the efforts of the European Monarchs to establish absolutism." This indefatigable secret and fortune teller does not, however, dwell upon one of the royal projects, of which no doubt is entertained by some of the most sagacious of the European political observers. Russia, Austria, Prussia, Holland, and Spain are supposed to have fixed their attention and hopes on the young Duke of Bordeaux, Henry the Fifth, for the throne of France. He is a lad of parts and general promise; and of an appearance, spirit, and habits fitted to win popularity in that country; and the strict legitimates there are not few in number or inconsiderable in power. If a crown can long continue to be worn at Paris, the Duke of Bordeaux has as good a chance to get it, as the Duke of Orleans. Chateaubriand may understand the game better than the world supposes.—Nat. Gaz.

A long time has elapsed since the United States have been represented at the Court of St. James by a minister plenipotentiary. Great Britain has, however, been so represented at Washington, during the greater part of the interval. Something is said about preparations for opening the subject of Impressment, at London. Is it entirely consistent with the dignity of the United States to make any overture on that head? The American people may repose on their resolution to resist the practice of impressment, utterly and as soon as it shall be renewed; leaving it to Great Britain to begin negotiation for averting the supposed necessity on the one hand, and the certain resistance on the other. Is it not time, moreover, considering the advances of our great Republic in power and consideration, that matters of international importance should be discussed,—in some instances at least,—with a view to final adjustment, at Washington? Must all our Treaties, Conventions, or Arrangements be concluded and dated abroad? Shall we always appear to be suitors in the great capitals of Europe, and even in the new states of our continent?—Nat. Gaz.

A Petrifaction.—Baron Steuben died of apoplexy, at Steuben, Oneida co., N. Y. in November, 1795. Agreeably to his request, his remains were wrapped in his cloak, enclosed in a plain coffin, and deposited in a grave without a stone. Many years after, as we learn by a memoir in the New York Commercial Advertiser, his body was disinterred for the purpose of burial in another place, and it was found to have passed into a state of complete petrifaction, and is believed to remain in that state of preservation to this day. The features of his face were as unchanged as on the day of his interment.

Transfer of the Deposits.—When every man knows that the United States Bank has never lost the Government one cent—that on the contrary it has transmitted its funds free of danger and of charge—that it has at various times made large advances, and sustained Government credit in the United States and in Europe—and when this determination is still manifested, to suppress it, even when resort must be had to so clumsy a substitute as the above—when all this is observed and weighed, every candid man must be convinced that some nefarious scheme is at the bottom of the Kitchen Cabinet's inexorable hostility to it. Honest zeal never resorted to such means.—Richmond Whig.

M. Guizot, the celebrated French political writer, and now one of the ministry, remarks that the more profound his historical researches, the more inaccuracies he has been enabled to detect in Gibbon: but that at the same time, admiration has been constantly on the increase at Gibbon's general truth and fidelity, and the consummate skill with which he has moulded his vast materials into one symmetrical design.—*Nat. Extracts from the Philadelphia Market, ending Saturday evening, August 24, 1833—Collected for the United States' Gazette, from actual Sales.

COTTON.—169 bales from New Orleans; 146 do. from Petersburgh, and 50 do. from Charleston, have been the import during the past week. The sales, as far as reported, consist of 50 bales S. C. of from inferior to fair quality, at 13 1-2 a 15 1-2 cts., 4 months; 300 bales Tennessee and Alabama at 14 a 15 1-4 cts. 60 days, and a small lot Georgia Uplands at 16 1-2 cts.; considerable animation was manifested in the market on Saturday, and we understand that a large parcel of Georgia was taken at prices not reported. The late arrivals from Europe, at New York, up to the 16th July, announcing an advance of 1-4d. per lb. and a brisk demand; and a still later arrival, showing a further advance, to the 24th July, of about 3-4d. per lb. This news has had a corresponding effect upon our own market, and holders have advanced their pretensions, and we quote all descriptions at 1-2 a 3-4 c. per lb. advance.

DOMESTIC GOODS.—All descriptions of domestics, with the exception of tickings, are on the advance, and are in good request. Sales of white low grade and yellow flannels are making freely; satinets are on the advance and better prices have been obtained this season than for the last two years; cotton yarn at 5a10; twist and filling 24c, 11a17, do do 25a27, 18a25, do do, 8a10c above the No; sattinet warps 15a25c, 10 cts above the No.

FLOUR.—The business of the week has been limited and the market very calm. The sales of superior flour do not exceed 2,200 bbls., at from $5 3-4a$6, embracing a parcel of 650 bbls. Brandywine Mills, extra quality, at $5 7-8; 225 bbls. extra superfine retailing brand, at $6 and the balance of fresh ground at $5 75, including several small parcels from wagons in market st. The sales on the Schuylkill side have also been limited, a parcel of 200 bbls. not in order, at $5 5-8, and about 700 bbls. at 5 3-4 from the wharf; a sale of middlings was made at $3 7-8. Rye flour has been in better request and nearly 1,000 bbls. have been sold at $3 3-4.

SUGARS.—The stock in first hands has dwindled down to about 350 hhds. of all descriptions: consequently the market is animated, and prices tending upwards.—We note sales of New Orleans to the extent of 400 hhds. fair at 8 5-8 a 8 3-4 cts. 4 and 5 months; 400 bls. white Brazil common at about 9 cts., and another parcel at 9 1-2 cts. on time; 40 hhds. Porto Rico at $8 75, 5 months, and 100 boxes Matanzas, brown at $8 37 1-2 on time.

WOOL.—The enquiry for wool throughout the week has been very good, and the sales have been to a very fair extent at our highest quotations; and we observe that the market continues in a healthy state. We note sales of 1,700 lbs. common tub washed wool at 38 cts. cash. A lot of from common to half blood packed in crates, hhds., &c. was sold on the Schuylkill side at 28 cents cash; a lot of unwashed common to quarter blood at 27 cts. cash. and a flock of 1000 lbs. merino from Lucerne county at 60 cts. 6 months; about 2000 lbs. second quality Philadelphia, pulled at 45 cents; 100 lbs. from quarter to common at quotations; a lot of 1500 lbs. tub washed, &c. at 47 cts. and a parcel of tub washed common at 40a42 cts., and 7500 lbs. Buenos Ayres wool of good quality; and clean washed with some burrs at 10 1-4 cents, 2 per cent. off. A parcel of 4600 lbs. from common to three quarters blood was taken at 27 cents 2 per cent, off; 3,600 lbs. half blood tub washed at 47 cts. 4 months; the two last sales being made on Saturday.

This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

PROSPECT HILL

Literary & Scientific Institution.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern; Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

MR. E. FORREST,

MISS CLARA FISHER,
MRS. KNIGHT,
MR. J. R. SCOTT,

Also, Mr. PARSLOE, of the Theatre, Covent Garden, London, &c. &c. &c.

In making these arrangements, the subscriber has used every exertion in his power to render THE THEATRE a place of rational amusement---

"To raise the genius and to mend the heart;
Shew Virtue her own features;
Vice her own image;
The age and body of the time, his form and pressure."

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn. It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
